Information for the Sunday, February 11th, 3 PM Concert

First Church in Cambridge, 11 Garden Street

Location

First Church in Cambridge is located at the corner of Garden and Mason streets, just across Mason Street from the old Radcliffe campus and across Garden Street from historic Cambridge Common. The church is right next door to the Sheraton Commander Hotel.

Parking

Parking is limited, but available spots can be found along the Cambridge Common as well as on residential streets near the church. Note that resident only parking is not in effect on Sundays, which creates more possibilities for parking near the church.

There are two accessible (or disability) parking spaces on Garden Street in front of the church. Use of these spaces requires a disability plate or placard.

University Place Parking Garage at 45 University Road is recommended. See <http://www.harvardsquare.com/services/university-place-parking-garage>

By Public Transportation

The closest T stop is Harvard Square. Leave the station at the main exit into the heart of Harvard Square, cross Massachusetts Avenue directly across from the station and go right, following the street until the corner with Garden Street. Go left at Garden and stay on that street until you come to the corner of Mason Street and there is the church.

You can also take the Church Street exit out of the Harvard T stop, which is at the corner of Massachusetts Avenue and Church Street. You will already have crossed Massachusetts Avenue underground, so from that exit, go right and follow the same path as above, crossing Church Street and the next corner is Garden Street. Go left there and stay on Garden Street until you come to the corner of Mason Street.

Access for the Disabled

The church is fully accessible. Enter at the parish house on Garden St. See the parking section above for accessible parking information.
